VENTURE VALUATION

WHAT DELEGATES ARE SAYING ABOUT EUROMEDTECH

▶ "Many thanks to EBD Group who organized this very timely and valuable conference for the medtech community in Europe. It was an excellent start as an informative partnering event and it is important that the drive for creating THE medtech conference in Europe continues with EuroMedtech and its subsequent iterations."
Olivier Litzka, Partner, Life Sciences, Edmond de Rothschild Investment Partners

▶ "EuroMedtech delivered as promised. We presented at the conference with the goal of raising capital from the impressive collection of participating medtech investors, as well as establishing important contacts with many future potential partners."
Kornelia Sabel, CEO, EBS Technologies

▶ "We were very pleased with the quality and the quantity of partnering meetings. We had fifteen meetings in two days' time with highly qualified companies that we could not have known had we not been at EuroMedtech. Importantly, three of those companies engaged us in ongoing discussions and negotiations for how we will work together to bring their products into new markets. These kinds of opportunities simply would not have developed without the initial in-depth discussions made possible by the personal one-to-one partnering meetings we had with the CEOs of those companies."
Robert Keefer, Partner, TCG, Inc.

JOIN US IN LEIPZIG

EBD Group and biosaxony are pleased to present the 2nd annual EuroMedtech™ International Partnering Conference in Leipzig, Germany, June 1–2, 2010.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

EuroMedtech offers a unique format designed to foster collaboration opportunities between medical technology decision makers. Featuring EBD Group's sophisticated, web-based partnering system, partneringONE®, the event enables delegates to efficiently identify, meet and do business with attending companies, ranging from large international medtech companies and the most exciting start-ups, to venture capitalists, institutional investors and a selection of service providers.

In addition to productive partnering, EuroMedtech offers panels analyzing new industry developments and trends, and a series of company presentation tracks, including Next Generation, Eastern Europe and the Deutsche Börse Group Company Presentation Track. A select group of exhibitors are featured at the heart of the conference area.

Combined, these elements create a highly productive event that will have you coming back year after year.
